Rumors That Cuban Patriots in the United States

Are About to Strike a Blow for the Freedom of Their Country.

Well-Drilled and Fully Equipped Men Who Are Ready to Die for Cuban Independence—Precautions Taken to Keep the Matter Quiet.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Cuban patriots in the United States are about to strike a blow for Cuban independence. Information has just been received by members of the Cuban club at Chicago regarding the departure of a ship recently named "The Queen of the Antilles" and it was loaded down with well-drilled and fully equipped men, who are prepared to die for Cuban liberty. Abundant supplies, arms and munitions.

The most careful precautions were taken to prevent the expedition from exciting the attention of the authorities of Key West, in order that no notice should be given to the Spanish rulers of the island. The afternoon of July 25, and early morning of July 26, a number of small parties left Tampa and Key West in small boats for fishing excursions.

At the time no one noticed that the parties were made up of Cuban patriots. Finally, however, it was discovered that there were no Cubans in Tampa and Key West, and no suspicion of the real object of the fishing excursions. The little band had orders to meet at a point twelve miles from Key West, according to the plan. The vessel on which this party were to be concealed in waiting for them with ample supplies and arms. The vessel was on time and all were safely got aboard.

The leader of the expedition is undoubtedly Gen. Chas. Roloff, who now resides in Florida, and the two brothers Gen. Roloff is a native of Poland, but emigrated when young to Cuba. With the love of liberty born in every son of Poland, he espoused the cause of Cuban liberty when the revolution of 1868 took place. He was a general in the struggle which overthrew his king to be a general, and he is given the credit of having conducted the most successful campaign from the insurgents' standpoint, in the whole struggle. After the revolution was successful, Gen. Roloff visited several of the South American republics, and was everywhere received with open arms. He has held several positions of distinction in these countries.

Gen. Roloff was in the United States of Columbia when he received the first intimation of a movement among the Cubans, of this country to aid the patriots of the island to throw off the Spanish yoke. He immediately made his way to Tampa and Key West, and threw all his influence in the direction of the progress inspired the cubans with new life, and in a short time there was hardly a Cuban in Key West or Tampa that was not enrolled in a patriotic or revolutionary club. For these reasons it is not hard to suppose that Gen. Roloff is the leader of the expedition.

Gen. Roloff is a native of King Malaita of the Samoan Islands, has been presented with $2,000 by Mr. Blacklock, agent for a wrecking company, being the proceeds from the sale of the wreckage of the naval vessels recently captured by the Cubans. This sum was presented to the Samoans by the American government. Part of this has been distributed by the king among the council of chiefs.

STICKS TO IT.

The Big Lick Telescope Confirms the Canal Story.

Says Prof. Schiaparelli, But He Never Said Mars Was Inhabited.

The Learned Professor Nightly Watching the Opposition of That Planet Through His Now Famous Instrument—Why the Astronomers See Differently.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—A Milan cable says: Prof. Schiaparelli, the illustrious astronomer whose fame is so gloriously vindicated by the Lick telescope, was seen in New York yesterday, and the professor of the observations by Lick's co-owners, with whom he has been in correspondence, and expressed great admiration for the American enterprise which had brought their splendid observatory into existence at so great a cost.

People in Milan have always expressed their confidence in any statement regarding the science of astronomy which Prof. Schiaparelli might make, and the learned professor of the Lick telescope has confirmed the existence of his famous duplicated lines on Mars. Of this planet he has made a special study, having devoted to the work the greater part of his life. In the long course of observations he made public in issuing his famous map of Mars thirteen years ago, Prof. Schiaparelli used an eight inch glass. Astronomers subsequently in various parts of the earth failed to verify his claims, even with glasses as large as twenty inches, but now it seems from the reports received here about the work of the Lick telescope that his keen gray eyes must have marvelous penetration and discerning power.

In talking about the subject, the professor said the great lines dividing the continents of Mars have always appeared to him very clear.

"I saw a partial duplication of the map of Mars in 1877, and their number increased with successive observations without the duplication, however, being always visible. The lines were very faint, but the duplication was clearly visible. The lines were in contact with the soil. The varying visibility of their duplication arose from different atmospheric conditions," said the professor.

The dental of the existence of the duplication," replied the great astronomer, "was secured by an absolute confirmation, for the markings were found, for the first time, in the stars of Mars, at the great observatory of Berlin, and at the California observatory. There of these observed the lines of Mars during the previous opposition."

The third, Schiaparelli, verified when the same which he noticed at the same time as the Italian astronomer.

"There might be two reasons for the diversity of observations by other astronomers. The first is that they have not observed Mars with telescopes.

The visibility of certain stars depends more upon the suitability of the instruments used than upon the quality of the telescope or the size of the instruments themselves. Several of the Milanese telescopes must have devoted special attention to the stars, and the use of red rays, and I think they make the best instruments for the observation of Mars, because they are red and great interest."

The second cause for the variability of observations is the possibility of observational errors.

"The dental of the possibility of observational errors is the same as that of the dental of the existence of the duplication," replied the great astronomer.
